

A colorful paper mache model of a castle. The castle is made of yellow and orange paper, with two towers on top, each with a red flag. There are two figures on the battlements. A large arched doorway is in the center. To the left, a banner with a red cross is hanging. To the right, a figure is visible in a window. A blue river flows in front of the castle, crossing a wooden bridge. The background is a blue sky with white clouds.
